Blairmore School District

Blairmore, March 3, 1920
To The Editor,
Blairmore Enterprise.

Dear Sir:
May I ask the favor of a small space in your paper for the following statement:

Having been relieved of the office of secretary of the above district, I am now a free agent, and as a taxpayer have the privilege, through this medium, with your permission, placing some matters of interest before the taxpayers and to give the reason that led up to the change of secretary.

The reason is not to be found in the statement of the chairman of the board that it was due to anything in connection with the council or the work of the district. The real reason is to be found in the result of the 1918 elections and my refusal, at the request of two members of the board, to reverse my declaration as returning officer for these periods. There were two vacancies at the 1918 election, caused by the retirement of W. J. Bartlett, who had served for two years and had no kick, and J. McPhail, who had served one year in accordance with the terms of his election and the declaration of the returning officer for December 1918. Through the advice of the Attorney-General, there was an error in the 1917 election, and the one-year term was necessary to adjust this matter.

Now, at a reception recently given at the Cosmopolitan hotel, I was approached by a member of the board, with the following remarks: "What the hell is the matter with you, any way?" Upon asking the meaning, I was asked by him why I worked so hard for Capt. Beebe. As Beebe was in no way concerned with the matter, I denied the assertion and was met by the statement that we (who the "we" meant I can only suspect) can look after your interests quite as well as Beebe—the inference being, I take it, that "if you will reverse the decision of the returning officer," or in other words, "if you will work for me," you will find it to your advantage," but as I was not out for that kind of business, the matter dropped. But my attitude did not change, here was the reason as before stated.

At a meeting early in the year, the W.P. above mentioned, proposed a change in secretary, and later the department of education at Edmonton, as represented by Inspector Lazerte, butted in with an alleged ruling of the Attorney-General, which was stated to be a reply to an alleged communication of the chairman regarding the standing of the trustees, (the originals or copies of these, so far as I know, are neither on file or record). As I understand it, the statement of the Inspector Lazerte to the effect that "it would be necessary for one trustee to resign, in order to have the board, as he said, legally constituted for 1920. There was apparently one member to be found who was willing to become the party." The reason is palpable, as he, following up a suggestion made at the meeting above mentioned, at which he sat as a trustee, at once tendered his resignation, which was no doubt eagerly accepted by the board, with the exception of two, hence the appointment of the present incumbent of the office of secretary—hough said!

Now for the personnel of the 1920 board, which is supposed to be legalized by the department at Edmonton, and which action is on the same principle legally disfranchising the electors, the attorney-general seems to me to be considerably exceeding his authority by his interference with an election declaration. In my opinion his duty is, to refer any appeal of election irregularities to the Act, which expressly provides a remedy, and only through a judge of the district court, and even he, so far as I know, has no power to compromise as was done by the department. As the board now stands, there is one legalized member sitting, who has not been elected, and another who has not even paid his 1919 $4.00 head or educational tax. How this kind of business can be legalized goes me, and according to this there will be four members retiring in the fall of 1920. Thus the department perpetrates its error of 1917.

Regarding the bouquets and felicitations continually being handed to one another by some members of the board in connection with what has been done during the past year, so far as my connection with the district is concerned, the 1919 board is the only one to have been in a position to effect any improvements, due, not to any reforms initiated by them, but to the foundation and conditions created by the introduction of wider powers of taxation by the 1917 board, the credit of which is due to Mr. J. E. Gillis, who introduced the resolution authorizing the application to the Minister for such powers. These are the reasons for the present excellent standing of the district.

Public utterance has been made by one of the 1919 trustees to the effect that previous to the election of certain members in 1918, applications were made to the

Council Will Endeavor to Read-Just Oust Inding Debentures

At the regular meeting of the town council on Thursday night last, a resolution was introduced by Councillor Gillis, to the effect that the matter of municipal finances of the town be taken up with the Municipal Finance Commission of Alberta with a view to readjusting and consolidating all outstanding debentures on an equitable basis, extending over at least 20 years, including 1920.

The above resolution was seconded by councillor McLeod and was unanimously endorsed by the council.

Petitions of James Padon and H. E. Lyon for taxation exemption were laid over for further consideration at a future meeting.

An amendment to License By-Law No. 4 was introduced by Councillor Dutil. By this amendment, which received three readings and was passed, licenses for soft drinks counters were increased from $25 to $50 a year.

The following accounts were passed for payment: Dominion Rubber Company $2.49, Western Municipal News $4.71, John Patterson $4.50, Blairmore Enterprise $42.80, Blairmore Trading Company $7.00, P. Ackerman $4.50, Dickenson The Stamp Man $9.89, Blairmore Hardware Co. $41.80, W. A. Beebe $20.00, Alberta Government Telephones $5.60, Workmen's Compensation Board $7.50, S. Ennis $7.60, Petty Cash $20.85, W. Howe $18.00.

West Canadian Collieries to advance money on their taxes in order that the teachers might be paid their salaries. This I feared, personally, and it led me to search for proof with the result that I failed to find any record of any such transaction ever having taken place. Perhaps the trustee in question can produce the record? It might be interesting to the taxpayers.

At a meeting held on February the 27th, at a "legalized" trustee stated that: there were a number of lots entered in the tax roll in the name of the Town of Blairmore, which he "knew" all knew that town never owned. This is a pretty bad accusation to make. Perhaps he can produce the proof; if not, then he should not indulge in what may seem to him "tall talk," but which on the contrary is very small indeed and does not help any.

In conclusion, I may say that this is not intended as a blame against the change, but is intended as a protest against the tactics used in an attempt to make a sucker of an official who was bound by oath to give an honest and impartial election declaration; also as a criticism of statements that are untrue, in all of which I disassociate two members of the board.

I am also enclosing election declaration of 1918. Election of 1919 was by acclamation.

Yours very truly,
F. WRIGHT.

The Exchange Problem

No one question is commanding such widespread interest in all countries as the problem of equalizing rates of international exchange. It is a problem which first engaged the attention of financiers and governments. Soon, however, it called for the careful consideration of all mercantile houses, manufacturers, and others engaged in large enterprises doing an international business. Now it is a matter of concern to every individual purchaser. It has now reached that acute stage where it is influencing politics, international and domestic, and is vitally affecting all channels of trade and commerce. In the newspaper press, reviews, and in private conversation it has eclipsed even discussions of the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations.

So far as Canada is concerned, our money is at a premium in practically every country but the United States, where it stands at a very serious discount. British money is at a discount in both Canada and the United States, so, too, is French, Belgian, Italian, German and other foreign currencies. The United States alone enjoys the distinction of having its money at a premium in all countries, while Canada comes second with its money at a discount only in the United States.

Canada has always purchased more extensively in the United States than that country has in Canada. In other words, our imports from the States have always exceeded our exports to that country. On the other hand, our exports to Great Britain have always exceeded our imports from the Old Land. In former years we have, therefore, been able to liquidate our "adverse balance" in the United States by British funds on New York; that is, we paid our debts in the States with money which Britain owed to us.

At the present time we cannot do this because, while Great Britain and other European countries owe Canada far more than this country owes the United States, they are not in a position to pay us in cash or in securities negotiable in the States, because we have been forced to sell them on credit on the one hand, and on the other they, too, owe the States large sums in excess of what the States owe them.

Therefore, while waiting for that time when Europe will be able to pay Canada what it owes us, we must pay the United States what we owe it either in gold or in goods. In the three years 1917, 1918, and 1919 Canada bought goods from the United States to a total of one billion dollars in excess of the value of the goods sold by us to the States. Notwithstanding this heavy debt to the United States, the American Exchange National Bank of New York estimates that Canada has a favorable balance with the whole world of over $500,000,000.

Used instead of coffee, it's Better for You More Economical

In the meantime, and until Canada can collect from other countries, there is only one of two ways, or a combination of both, whereby Canada can right her balance with the United States. (1) By buying less from the United States than in the past, and buying more at home and from Great Britain, France and other countries; and (2) by producing in Canada in larger quantities those things which the United States will buy from us, and energetically proceeding to sell such goods across the line.

The fact that the Canadian dollar has at present a purchasing power of only 80 or 85 cents in the United States will, in itself, operate to discourage Canadian buying there, while the fact that our dollar will buy more than a dollar's worth of goods in Great Britain will encourage heavier purchases there. This will help to right exchange conditions between Canada and the United States, and will also help the Motherland. From the purely Canadian standpoint, however, the main thing is that our people should produce in ever-increasing volume those things which are in demand in the United States and which we can most easily and profitably export to that country.

At the same time, the Ottawa Government would be well advised at the approaching session of Parliament if it loses no time in adopting the policy advocated for so many years by the farmers of the West and increase the preference accorded to British goods under the tariff to fifty per cent. This would greatly assist Great Britain to enlarge her sales in Canada, and, in the interim, she does so, to replace United States goods thus assisting both Canada and Britain. It would likewise result in a lowering of Customs taxation on the masses of the Canadian "consuming public."

Close American observers of conditions are becoming alarmed over the prospect of losing a considerable part of their Canadian business—Canada is the best customer the United States has—and leading financial men there are urging adoption of a policy which will have the effect of raising the value of the Canadian dollar across the line back to par.

Canadians, however, should not depend on Lincoln's action, but should by hard work and unremitting energy increase production in all lines, and thereby enormously increase their export trade to the United States, and thus offset their heavy purchases of needed commodities from that country. And the Ottawa Government should encourage and assist in this work by substantially lowering, or altogether removing, the tariff on all implements of production, coupling therewith a larger tariff preference to British goods.

Large Timber Deal

Half a Million Dollars Said to Be Involved in the Transaction

The largest timber deal of the new year has just been completed, says the Vancouver Province, in the purchase by Messrs. Blood, Welch and Stewart of a considerable tract on Vancouver Island just north of Union Bay. Half a million dollars is said to have been the price paid, but officials of the purchasing firm declined to announce the definite figure.

The tract, which is held under Crown grant, consists of 6,000 acres, and the fir and cedar timber available is said to average 40,000 feet per acre. It is a railway proposition, and three miles of line will be put in to transport the logs to tidewater. Camps are now being constructed and it is expected that 100 men will soon be on the payroll. The new camp is at almost opposite Myrtle Point, on the east side of the Gulf of Georgia, where the same concern has for some time carried on a large logging enterprise.

This is not the peace whose hope sustained us through the dark days of the war. The new world that we thought we were making then is still unformed; the spirit of international rivalry and distrust is not safely chained up; and instead of a world animated by the ideal of common good, we have a world, partly distracted by the rivalry between the fiercely opposing principles of constitutional progress and partisan tyranny, partly affected an indifference towards this issue which is canonically felt, and indulging the old hopes of political isolation that broke down so completely during the war.

A good many moving spectacles are due to heartless landlords.

A Question of Public Interest

Have the People of Canada the Right to Buy Their Own Lumber at Reasonable Prices?

The Regina Grain Growers' association at their meeting on Saturday last called for an investigation into lumber prices, and in the legislature on Monday, during the discussion of the housing scheme, the minister of municipal affairs declared that Canada's requirements were not being met because of the fact that United States buyers were outbidding each other, regardless of price, for British Columbia's output, with the natural result that prairie province consumers had to pay exorbitant prices or go without needed supplies. He predicted further large advances in price, and even the possibility that, if an embargo was not placed on the export of lumber, buildings in this country would be brought to a standstill.

Support for these views is found in a recent editorial in the Vancouver World headed, "Our Prosperous Lumber Industry," which records the fact that Australia cannot secure the lumber it desires in B.C. and is forced to go to Siberia for it. The fault is not altogether the British Columbia lumbermen's, says The World, which explains the situation in these words: "The lumber output in this province at present is taxed to its capacity. There is a heavy demand from the prairies, and dealers there have but small stocks wherewith to fill it. Some parts of the United States join in the demand and there is as well a big overseas market which is offering high prices and must be satisfied."

"The lumber producer consequently suffers not from lack of a desire to satisfy his customers, but from lack of ability. Australian lumbermen are forced to buy what they need in Vladivostok, for the reason that British Columbia cannot fill their orders."

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe, that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent the little one from being sold by impatient dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Big Aerial Plan

Firms in England Are Negotiating Development of Trans-Atlantic Airship Service

Four of the largest aviation firms in England are negotiating, according to London advices, with regard to a combine, with the eventual purpose of development of a trans-Atlantic airship service.

It is said to be the purpose of the combine to purchase all airships which the government does not re-hoars.

A despatch from London, said a weekly airship service to the United States was contemplated by a combination of aviation men. These firms were credited with the intention of acquiring the famous dirigible R-34 which made the trans-Atlantic voyage last year and her sister ship the R-33. The airships, it was declared, were being altered to meet passenger and cargo requirements.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CLEANED OUT HIS RHEUMATISM

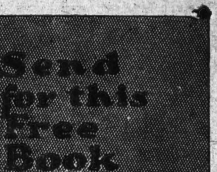

He Found in the Old Canadian Remedy Relief That the Hospitals of Egypt Could Not Give.

Cape St. George, Nfld., March 1.—(Special).—Logan Corbett, keeper of the light and fog alarm here, and who was overseas with the Newfoundland forces, is a firm believer in Dodd's Kidney Pills as a help for kidney disease and rheumatism.

"For two years I suffered from kidney disease and rheumatism," Mr. Corbett states. "I was treated for them in the hospitals in Egypt. But it was five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills that cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy. By putting the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood they remove the uric acid, the cause of rheumatism. With the kidneys cleansing the blood, there can be no uric acid to crystallize in the muscles and cause those excruciating pains known as rheumatism. Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Newfoundland Dog Shot by Robbers in Holdup in New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—Every effort is being made today to have the life of "Prince," a big Newfoundland dog, shot by holdup men when he went to the aid of his master, Martin Matarch, a restaurant-keeper, who was being robbed.

When two armed men ordered Matarch to "throw up his hands," the dog entered from an adjoining room and leaped upon the intruders as one fired a shot which grazed Matarch's wrist. One of the bandits was thrown to the floor but fired himself from the dog's hold by shooting him through the forehead. Both robbers then fled.

Liquor Traffic Pays For Alberta Police

Legally taken profits of the government, doctors and druggists in the sale of liquor for medical purposes during 1919 totalled $2,150,317. If all estimated profits of bootleggers and "moonshine" stills operated in the province during the same period totalled about $3,500,000. These and numerous other interesting statistics concerning the state of the liquor traffic in the province of Alberta were given to the legislature on Monday afternoon by Attorney-General Boyle. Incidentally, in presenting statistics on the number of convictions obtained in Alberta, which gives the province the unenviable distinction of heading all the rest of Canada in the number of offenders apprehended and convicted, Mr. Boyle paid strong tribute to the provincial police force, declaring that he was thoroughly satisfied that the police had done everything possible to enforce the law without fear or favor.

Conviction figures showed that in 1919 ten doctors were convicted under the act, five druggists, one dentist, 2019 bootleggers and 167 illicit stills—a total of 2,202 convictions.

The government's profits on the sale of liquor for the year totalled $380,474, being $80,000 more than it cost to maintain the Alberta Provincial Police force.

The regular weekly dance will be held in the Masonic hall on Friday night.

Edmonton Penitentiary To Be Demolished

Chronicles of the Scribes and Pharisees

Chapter VII.

"The Battle with The Pharisees"

"And it came to pass that the hearts of the children of Edward the son of Goshawk were hardened, and they could not walk or skate in the paths of righteousness, and there came to them the voice of gnashing of teeth in the wilderness, saying, 'We unto ye Pharisees! hypocrites! ye who are filled with misery and oppression.'"

And the Pharisees journeyed to Frank and entered the rink, called the smelter, and with them were their wives and their sons and daughters, their oxen and their asses, their staves and their weapons, and there they found the stalwart Scribes with their hair grined, fully accoutred with sword, shield and buckler, and strong in the knowledge of the righteousness of their cause, and the hearts of the Pharisees were sorely tried.

They Are Seven

The men who do a town more harm than good may be classed as follows:

First, those who oppose improvement. Second, those who run riot down to strangers. Third, those who never advertise their business. Fourth, those who distrust public-spirited men. Fifth, those who show no hospitality to any one. Sixth, those who hate to see others make money. Seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves.

seen did melt with fear at the sight. And it came to pass that Judah were appointed from amongst the retainers, and when all had been set in order the chosen cell sounded forth and the conflict was on.

And Charles, the son of Ritchie, did vainly try to grasp the truth (commonly called the pack) from the sword of Raoul the son of Green, and to his aid came all the children of Bellevue except James, the son of Radford, whose place was in the portals of sin, but the mighty Raoul did slay and slay about with his sword, and to slay him came John R., whose armour was solid, and they fought so valiantly that the truth was driven past the guardian of evil, and the Pharisees knew they were sorely hit, and the score stood 1 in favor of the Scribes.

Then did the children of the Pharisees wail and weep, invoking the help of their false gods, and the conflict waged on. And Henry, the son of Bennett, looked upon Fred the son of Pollock, dozing and Fred, in turn, fell asleep, and there, trembling, long sight of the truth. Then did Henry rush forth in the fulness of his strength, and the feet of Edward reeled upward in a supplicating manner, and the son of Flint departed into the wilderness, clothed in sackcloth, and ashes, girt about with a breastplate of fiction, and when the clouds had passed the truth had once more visited the lands of wickedness, and things looked serious for the Pharisees.

Then did the Pharisees arise, themselves and mid snatching and gnashing of teeth did conduct themselves in demagoguery, and the Scribes, confident in the ultimate victory, did oppose them, rightly permitting them to carry the truth, to the end that they might see whether the truth were safe in such strange hands and the score stood 2-1.

Thus encouraged, the evil ones began to battle furiously, and one of them, by name Fred, the son of Utley, did seek to spy out the land of the Scribes, and seeing his peridy the judge ruled him off-side and banished him from the scene for ten minutes, and from this time the rules suffered grievously and the Pharisees were full. And after the stronghold of the Pharisees had been thrice overcome, the captain of the Scribes, with sublime disdain, did scorn the aid of his sword, and did carry the truth in his pocket, and led into the centre of conflict, and again scored, and the reckoning stood 3-1.

When the terrors were again resumed, the truth fell into the hands of Robert, son of Scott, who could not withstand the onslaughts of Milton, son of Coughlan, and he fell by the way-side, and many were the deeds of valour performed over his prostrate body. And it came to pass that John, son of McPhail, stood in the gateway of the city of the Scribes and did repel the truth (in which act he was well practiced), until Herbert, son of Barlow, did come fresh into the fray and was permitted to score. And again Robert gained the truth, and he did show from his percentages did valiantly circumvent his oppressors, and the truth found a haven behind McPhail. And even then the wonders did not cease, for Raoul, gestulating wildly with his hands and feet, did restore the honor of the Scribes, followed in swift turn by John, who shot at random, knowing that truth will always find a way; and finally Henry prevailed over the false prophets, knowing that they could do nothing against the truth, and the Pharisees knew that the day of judgment was at hand, and the score stood 4-3 in favor of the Scribes.

There was waiting and gnashing of teeth in the land of Bellevue, and it came to pass that William, son of Chappell, full of the heat of battle, knew not that the fray was ended and did hurl the truth at the door of the Pharisees, and though the entry was not recorded, the act of William gave the great disorder, and the victorious army was loudly acclaimed.

And the Pharisees departed, chastened and submissive, and did send banners bearing as spoils to the victors the fat of the land and sea, and they hope, after much fasting and prayer, to return to the conflict and with true faith work their way to a full knowledge of the truth.

To The Victors Belong The Spoils

The 'Victors' otherwise known as the Scribes, beg to acknowledge receipt of the booty from the Pharisees, in the shape of a well-packed box of sardines for each of the Players (?), and the Judge of Goals. Each sardine box of fish bearing inscription as follows:

To JONATHAN, Captain of the hosts of the Scribes, known as Allan Hamilton—"Fishy booty for a fishy tribe."

To JUDAS ISCARIOT of the Scribes, the off-side expert known to the multitude as R. Green.

To ANNANIAS, the seller of wares of the tribe of the Scribes, well known to the Pharisees as J. R. Smith.

To GOLIAH, the man of brawn and bice of hot air, of the tribe of the Scribes known to us as John McPhail.

To SHEBA, the son of Biehr, the Benamite, a keeper of the keys, and of the tribe of the Scribes, known well as H. M. Bennett—(Oh Fish.)

To ZEBARIAH, the climber of trees of the tribe of the Scribes, who passes as H. M. Condon.

To ARTEMAS, the Scribe of the Scribes, known to the hosts of the Pharisees as W. H. Chappell.

To JOSHUA, the son of Nym of the tribe of the Scribes, and the First Judge, known to us as L. P. Robert.

Benefit of Good Roads

According to the latest returns, California has assumed first place, long held by the farming state of Iowa, as having the largest number of automobiles and trucks per capita. The Golden State's per capita is 6.2, or 486,493 automobiles, etc., to her 3,000,000 population. Nebraska is placed second at a rate of 6.5 per capita, South Dakota third, only a fraction lower, and Iowa fourth; Montana, Minnesota, Wyoming, Kansas, Arizona, North Dakota and Colorado follow in the order given. This state is given a per capita of 6.4, with 104,830 machines.

Significant is the fact that with the exception of Iowa, a middle-wester, the best 11 states are western states, considerably newer states and a clear majority farming states. This is the day of the farmer. With him, however, it is a matter of economic necessity, the automobile and the truck.

California deserves first place. That state has spent and is spending a great deal of money on its highways, spending in an intelligent fashion, too. The first class highway is the forerunner of truck and automobile—Rocky Mountain News.

Foresight And Thrift

The savage cat when he finds meat. He gorges and sleeps and between times snores. The civilized man lays up. In abundance he prepares against famine. He builds barns and warehouses.

Thrift implies self-control. We are masters of self, not slaves of self.

Thrift implies self-respect. We do not wish to become a burden upon others. Hence we lay up something for our lean days.

Thrift means decency. The decent portion of the race accept their due responsibility, carry their share of the burden, justify their existence by cheerfully doing their part of the world's work.

Thrift means love of family.

Thrift means you are not a boaster, a sponge or a nuisance.

Thrift means using your strength to protect your weakness, your health to take care of your sickness, your fortune to protect against your misfortune.

Thrift means you are not ashamed of your past; you are content with your present; and you are unafraid of your future.—The Illick.

How To Succeed

G. F. Higham, member of British parliament, says that every healthy man is a potential earner of $50,000 a year. Then he tells how to go about it. Maybe he is "spoofing" us.

"The secret is to get others to work out your ideas," he says "and to have the courage of your convictions; to say 'yes' and 'no' and stick to it. Don't be too tired to get up when opportunity knocks at your door. Have an infinite capacity for taking pains. Be ready for any question—for an emergency. Look and act prosperous. Be an optimist. Pessimists do not get far. Be kind. Be courteous—it's the cheapest thing in the world. Never break your word. Business men are looking for reliable men. Fire yourself from the job that doesn't make you happy. Take chances if you want big chances. Have faith in yourself."

There, that's how to earn $50,000 a year. Take off your coat and go to work! Wonder if Higham is earning that much or only telling the rest of us how.

Mr. Edison has been celebrating his 73rd birthday, and it is worth noting that he still spends practically all his time at work. His is an eight-hour day. Hard work has brought him success and fame and, according to himself, happiness. His achievements have been of benefit to man kind generally. He works for the sake and is rewarded.

Soldiers And Re-Establishment

Early in March a Dominion Convention of representatives of the Great War Veterans Association of Canada will meet at Ottawa for consideration, among other things of prosecuting the claims of the veterans for better treatment financially from the country.

It is not a case, primarily, of the wanting a cash grant from the country. The G. W. V. A. proposals embrace assistance in various ways, primarily with the object of giving the returned men a stake in the country that they fought for. They are also asking for better pensions for the men who have been disabled while serving their country at the front. It must be admitted by all who have studied the question of pensions that the present pensions are entirely inadequate. The veterans undoubtedly have Western Canada at large behind them, but the opposition comes from the east where the moneyed interests are afraid that they may have to disgorge some of their war profits if the fighting men get increased allowances.

Sir Robert Borden has promised further consideration to the veterans' demands, and the Government might as well make up its mind that the men who fought for four years for a common object will continue to stick together until they have impressed their views on the Government.

A circular signed by six organizations purporting to represent the returned men asks for a $2000 bonus for men who have served in France, and lesser amounts for those who have served elsewhere. These organizations probably do not between them represent one-tenth of the returned men who are members of the G. W. V. A., and there is a suspicion that they are organized by interested parties in order to split the soldiers' effective strength, and put forward demands that the Government will undoubtedly reject in order to draw attention away from the same proposals of the G. W. V. A.

At a mass meeting of veterans held in the Masonic hall on Sunday afternoon last the questions involved were given consideration and J. M. Carter was elected a delegate to represent this district at the convention to be held in Montreal on March 22nd, when matters regarding this bonus scheme will be considered.

Requirements Of Labor Requested

The Alberta Government. Employment Bureau which have been in operation during the past year are planning for the present season's requirements, and would appreciate the timely assistance of all who require help, and those who will require help of any kind are asked to make their wants known to the Employment Bureau as far in advance as possible in order that the necessary help can be secured.

With regard to farm work it is evident that owing to the unprecedented early advent of winter in 1919 a large quantity of grain still remains unthreshed, and little or no fall ploughing was performed. It is apparent that this work must be done before seeding can be accomplished, considerable labor will be required to do this work. Farmers will materially help the Bureau by placing their orders a few days in advance of date work will actually commence.

Manufacturers and contractors as soon as they know what operations they will be performing should get in touch with the Bureau so that men of ability can be located and selected for the work to be carried out.

Superintendents of the Bureau will appreciate inquiries at once so that they will be in possession of full information in advance and can lay their plans, and make arrangements to supply any demands made for help.

Bureaus are operating in Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer, Drumheller, Vermilion and Macleod.

The service of the Bureau is absolutely free both to employer and employee.

Mrs. James Paden, who for a long time has been under hospital treatment at the coast, returned to Blairmore on Sunday morning, after visiting her daughter at Calgary.

B. C.'s Pulp and Paper Industry

Now Producing About Seven Million Tons of Paper Annually

British Columbia is now producing 645 tons of paper daily, or about seven million tons annually. Eleven years ago the province was not producing any paper at all. The progress that has been made in the last eleven years is being maintained, so that during the next few years a considerable increase in the pulp and paper industry of the province may be looked for.

British Columbia produces fourteen per cent. of the pulp and paper manufactured in Canada—the second largest paper producing country in the world—at the present time, being the third largest producing province, following Quebec with 24,000,000 tons and Ontario with 21,000,000 tons annually.

INFLUENZA HAS LATER DANGERS

Particular Care Needed When Patient Is Convalescent, Says Expert

The influenza convalescent who has apparently recovered from the disease and is yet in a strangely weak and depressed condition should be the object of particular care, according to Dr. Louis I. Harris, director of the Bureau of Preventable Diseases of the New York Health Department. In the opinion of Dr. Harris, the after-care of the influenza patient is most important. The co-operation of the patient, coupled with the willingness to see that the weakness and depression are a part of the illness, though coming after the disease itself, has spent its force, is a big factor in effecting a complete return to full health. On the other hand, the determination to ignore this debilitated condition and to fight against it will, Dr. Harris says, frequently bring serious consequences upon the patient.

After Effects Bad

"The subject of the after effects of influenza," said Dr. Harris, "is one of particular interest to the scientist at the present time."

"First, and perhaps the most momentous condition to be considered, is the striking depression, mental, nervous, and physical, which follows the disease in most patients. Those attacked by the disease with moderate severity are almost always afflicted with this depression, which should be recognized and dealt with. Those who have had mild cases of the epidemic are little affected by depression and their quick return to health and strength gives rise to the belief that influenza is trivial. On the contrary, influenza in its after effects is anything but trivial, and calls for the application of rules of common sense and sanitation which are the fruit of years of experience."

"Tonic treatment, well chosen diet, and great care in not becoming over-tired or allowing the body to be chilled are necessary. Exercise may be taken, but not more than two a day, for the average adult. Of course, it must be remembered that in many cases this disease tends to 'direct its force' against the kidneys, and therefore we instruct patients to avoid eating a great amount of meat, eggs, or beef extracts. Eggs, soft boiled, poached, or beaten raw, are valuable in a 'free' number. The raw eggs should always be well agitated before taking."

When Good Food is Bad

"With milk and eggs as a foundation, the patient should eat good nourishing food, including meat, fish and vegetables, simply prepared. Food, for instance, is out of the question. Good food prepared in an unassuming manner becomes bad food, especially this to be noted in cases of convalescence from influenza, for the disease often manifests itself in vomiting, and in intestinal and gastric disturbances, and it is important not to weaken the digestive function by the eating of poorly prepared food, or even the best of food in ill-advised quantities. The quantitative distribution of foodstuffs should be so adjusted as not to overtax the stomach, but the patient should eat generously and frequently."

As a tonic to build up the blood and stimulate the shattered nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are unsurpassed. These pills actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, improves the appetite, strengthens digestion and drives away the feeling of weariness and depression always following an attack of the gripe or influenza. Those who give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial will be amply repaid by the new health and strength this tonic medicine always gives.

Grain in Calgary Elevator

Government is Making Every Provision For Home Consumption

About 180,000 bushels of wheat and 95,000 bushels of oats will probably be moving out of the government elevator at Calgary, Alberta, for various points during the next few days. This will be one of the largest movements in the history of the elevator. On account of the great quantities of grain that have been diverted to Calgary recently in response to an order of the Canadian Wheat Board, the elevator, which has a capacity of about two and a half-million bushels, is practically full at present. It is stated that the government is making every provision for home consumption and also to take care of the present Montana demand.

Three Schools of Agriculture for Alberta

Speech From Throne Tells of Addition Also to Public Schools

Edmonton.—The completion of the three new schools of agriculture, provision for the commencing of work in a number of public institutions of an educational character, and provision for large additional expenditures for telephone extensions in the province, were among the announcements contained in the speech from the throne, which was read before a notable gathering by Lieutenant-Governor R. G. Brett, at the opening of the third session of the fourth legislative assembly of the province. Other subjects touched on included an invitation to the attention of the legislature to the subject of natural resources, increased organization for promoting the health of the people, the amending of legislation to the Irrigation Act, and complimentary reference to the visit of the Prince of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire.

Large Herring Catch in B.C. Waters

Nearly half a million dollars' worth of herring were caught last month in the waters surrounding Vancouver Island. Vast schools of fish frequented the Nanaimo, Alberni and Clayquot districts, bringing the month's catch up to the unprecedented figure of $441,390. Of the total of 353,112 cwt., 197,520 cwt. were dry salted.

Another Epidemic OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after-effects, such as weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you had the "flu" before and now you are again after effect, Miller's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength.

Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Keppel, Sask., writes: "I wish to inform you of the great good Miller's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. After a bad attack of the Spanish influenza my heart and nerves were so badly affected that I got two boxes of your pills and must say they are the best I ever used, and I have taken a great many different kinds. I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in my medicine chest."

Longest Will on Record

Runs to Five Hundred Folios and Contains Forty-five Thousand Words

Who made the longest will? The shortest is not disputed. That was made by Lieut. Frank Kirkley, of Sunderland, England, who died on active service in Italy. He wrote: "I bequeath all I have to the back of a photograph autographed 'Muriel.' This will, including signature and date, comprised exactly 11 words. It was generally believed that the longest will was that of Mr. Edward Lewis, of Glasgow, which ran to 26,000 words, but now a London City solicitor, in the course of inquiries, discovered that the will of Mr. P. J. Miles, of Bristol, Eng., consisted of 32,000 words. "I know its length," said the solicitor, "because I had to read every word of it in old English script dating back to 1842."

The officials of Somerset House, where all the proved wills are kept, deny that even this is the longest in their keeping. "There is one I know," states an official, "which runs to 500 folios. As there are 90 words to the folio in probate papers, this means that the will contains 45,000 words."

Coal Mines Under the Sea

In England, the workings of the Cumberland coal field run two miles out under the sea. The ventilation of these mines is a nice engineering problem, but is successfully accomplished. At Workington, England, in the year 1837, before the science of surveying was as highly developed as at present, the sea burst through and the workers were drowned. Some of Nova Scotia's coal mining is also done beneath the bed of the sea.

Calgary Elevators Handling Large Quantity of Grain

As an instance of the large quantity of grain that has been handled at Calgary, Alberta, this season, it is interesting to note that from the beginning of September to February 13th, 7,433 cars were dealt with by the local grain inspector. For the whole of last year 8,429 cars were inspected. The local elevators are now practically full. Steps were taken some little time ago to see that there was ample provision for home needs.

Cascarets never gripe, sicken or inconvenience one. Use Salts, Oil, Calomel or harsh Pills. Feel bulky? Be efficient! Don't stay sick, bilious, headachy, constipated. ## Saskatchewan Coal

During 1919, 360,081 tons of coal were produced from 41 mines in Saskatchewan, as against 336,000 tons in the previous year. A total of 403 miners were employed last year, as against 264 the year before. The total consumption of coal in the province is estimated at 1,650,000 tons.

A Nervous Wreck

BY DR. D. L. GRANTIER.

How many business men feel fagged out, nervous, with a "soggy brain"—worn out completely before the day and its tremendous tasks are half over? Try the right way! Clean the body first. That will help your nerves, your head and your circulation. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache or a common cold to gripe or a serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. Don't give the body a chance to absorb the poisons. Remove the toxins from the system and give the tissues of the body aid to resist disease by taking an occasional laxative such as castor oil, or a tiny pill made up of May-apple, aloin, jalap, and sold by most druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The kidneys and bladder suffer from the wear and tear, and we get chronic inflammations sometimes indicated by backache, painful voiding of water—dull, heavy feelings. Perhaps the uric acid is stored up in the system in excessive amount, and consequently when the urate salts are deposited in muscles and joints one suffers from lumbago (pain in back), rheumatic pains, gout, etc.

Nothing will act so nicely as "Anuric" (anti-uric-acid), a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce's which can be had at all drug stores. "Anuric" washes away the poisons, cleanses the bladder and kidneys—rendering them antiseptic—consequently one is soon cured of lumbago, rheumatism, gout, and the body is put into a clear, healthy state.

The Cause of Heart Trouble

Faulty digestion causes the generation of gases in the stomach which inflate and press down on the heart and interfere with its regular action, causing faintness and pain. 15 to 30 drops of Mother Selig's Cardiac Syrup after meals sets digestion right, which allows the heart to beat full and regular.

One leading Canadian financial authority in London gave the Canadian press the following considered opinion on the exchange question. "I think there is a great deal of popular misconception on the subject. The premium on the American dollar is usually spoken of as depreciation in the pound sterling. As a matter of fact, the pound sterling represents the rest of the world against the United States; and has really very little relation to Great Britain alone. If it were only a question of exchange between Great Britain and the United States, the exchange rates would be about normal, but the fact is, practically all continental business is done through London."

The Old Home Paper

When I read the city papers with their headlines flaring out, I'm so proud of modern doings I could fairly dance and shout; they are clever, wise and witty, and they give me all the news and a little dash of science and things that set me smiling and will not let frown in to get the weekly paper from the old home town. There the Mt. Carmel items and the happenings at St. Ives and the news that Hiram Higgins is in bed with the hives; that Jim Smith is stepping high these days because he is dad; that Jenkins gave a party and a pleasant time was had—oh, I feel that life means something more than money and renown when I get the weekly paper from the old home town. It's a long and loose distance that my weary steps have strayed, but the old town has its memories that never never fade. I can see the old time buildings and the tidy, compact street, and the shady loading corners where the neighbors used to meet, and it seems to me that life puts on its brightest glory gown when I get the weekly paper from the Old Home Town.

No Chicken

A certain surgeon, who was very young and shy, was invited to dinner by a lady who was at least 50 but frivolous enough for 20. At dinner she asked the young surgeon to carve a fowl, and not having done so before, he failed lamentably. Instead of trying to cover his confusion, the hostess called attention to it pointedly by looking down the table and saying loudly: "Well, you may be a very clever surgeon, but if I wanted a leg off I should not come to you to do it." "No, madam," he replied politely, "but then, you see, you are not a chicken."

The Japanese Way

Perhaps the Japanese are more cruel in kind than are the Christian peoples. At all events, from a recent educational report, it is learned that children are taught not to expect mercy in the hereafter if they torture dumb animals. Thus the little fellows are taught if they kill a cat, the animal will revenge itself for seven generations. If a boy kills a frog and watches the twitchings of its death struggles, the boy's hand will tremble when he tries to write. These precepts are inculcated not by the rod which is left to spoil in Japan, but by moral suasion.
